

In the original article by Gürses and Güler, entitled “Correlation between the adverse reactions to intravenous iodinated contrast media and IgE levels”, that appeared in the previous issue of Diagnostic and Interventional Radiology (Diagn Interv Radiol 2005; 11:74-76), the term ‘anaphylactoid’ has been typed erroneously as ‘anaphylactic’ in the first paragraph, line 7, and in the third paragraph, lines 7 and 11, of the Discussion section on page 75. We regret this error.

The Best Original Article of the Year Award 2006

The best original article published in Diagnostic and Interventional Radiology will be selected by a jury. All original articles in the four issues (December 2005-September 2006) of the quarterly journal are eligible for the award (€1000), which will be given during the 27th Turkish Congress of Radiology to be held in October 2006.
